It is with great humility that I attempt to pay tribute to one who lived such a beautiful life as did my uncle Charlie. I know myself how incapable I am of doing justice to the subject.

The story of his childhood days, I shall relate to you as he himself told me; the births, marriages and deaths I have taken from Grandma Gilbert's family Bible (now in the possession of Aunt Mary Gilbert Hudson) and from obituaries and newspaper clippings from my Mother, Lyda Gilbert Andrews' scrap book.

In speaking of the suffering and poverty of the Southern people during the Civil War, Uncle Charlie said: "We were three small children, I, the oldest, Mary next and Lyda, only two years old when my Father had to leave for the war. Soon after he left, my mother gave birth to a little boy who was named Love for our father. Mother died and the baby lived a few months. We were living in Jasper, Alabama. Grandmother Gilbert came from Eutaw, Alabama to Jasper and took us home to live with her. My Mother must have died from starvation and neglect for what I remember most was how hungry I was when Grandma came, and how good the hard biscuit, which she brought with her, tasted.

"When the war was over my father returned and married again. We lived in Carrolton, Alabama and I helped my father with the work on the Carrolton paper. I had very little schooling but I served as the 'printer's devil'."

It was in this humble modest manner in which Uncle Charlie always spoke of himself which made us all love him. He never realized himself how well educated he really was. He read and studied all of his life; he never reached an age where he was not asking questions and seeking more knowledge from those whom he thought knew more than he.

On December 20, 1877 Charles Edwin Gilbert was married to Elizabeth Gertrude Wilson at Carrolton, Alabama. They, with my Mother, Lyda Gilbert (Andrews), came to Texas. Here he started a small town paper in Navasota and in Abilene, Texas. Soon after this, his sister Mary came to live with them. Both of the sisters were married from his home in Abilene. When his father and stepmother, died several of the other Gilbert children made their homes with Uncle Charlie and Aunt Trudie.

From the little town paper of Abilene, Charles Edwin Gilbert grew to be one of the most outstanding men in the journalistic field of his day.

Clipping from the Dallas Times-Herald:—"After founding the Navasota Tablet in 1877, Gilbert established the Abilene Reporter in 1881. He sold this and moved to Dallas in 1889, where with L. L. Foster he bought the Dallas Evening Times. He purchased Foster's interests and then bought the Dallas Herald, thus founding the Dallas Times-Herald."

Charles Edwin Gilbert was noted for his beautiful editorials. He was never afraid to write on the unpopular side of a question and it is said that even his opponents in the end would say that "Gilbert was always right."

From the city newspaper, he progressed to a position in the State Capitol. Here he, along with the other State officials of that day, served Texas.

He belonged to all of the leading organizations of Texas and very frequently as a leader; but he will be remembered most for his love for his relatives. His wife came first in his life, his children next, and then his other relatives. He loved family reunions and he always had some of his kin visiting in his home.

It is for this reason that I have tried to obtain the correct addresses of his close kin in the hope that as a memorial we all might secure from one another little kodak snap shots to place in this book. I can think of nothing that would please Uncle Charlie more than for all of us to keep up the Gilbert family ties.

I have been working for some time on the Gilbert and West Genealogy trying to find out who was the father of Abraham Gilbert and I have several good leads but at this time all that I am sure of is that he had a sister, Lodoski Gilbert who married Isaac Hoyt Benedict. Isaac Benedict was born December 12, 1795 and married at Newberry, South Carolina. He died at Greenville, South Carolina November 30, 1853. These Benedicts and Gilberts intermarried. (Benedict Genealogy)

Gertrude Gilbert and I hope to take our genealogy back to our English ancestors. We will appreciate any further information any of you may contribute to our Gilbert Genealogy. My contribution is not a genealogy but a memorial which I am publishing at this time so that all the Gilbert sisters may take part in this as a LIVING MEMORIAL to him.

To the one who so often told us "My Buddie was more than a Brother to me—He was both my mother and father, after Grandma Gilbert died. There is nothing that I can ever do to repay him for his love and kindness to me"—to you, my Möther, I hope that you might find a little of that sincere gratitude of your heart living on in the lives of your children in this simple contribution of our affection to Uncle Charlie.

Our genealogy starts with Abraham Gilbert and Elizabeth West who were married in Newberry, South Carolina in 1829.

ABRAM OR ABRAHAM GILBERT

The family Bible states that Abraham Gilbert was born in South Carolina in the year 1801. That he was married to Miss Elizabeth West in 1829 and they, Abram and Elizabeth West Gilbert, moved to Columbus, Georgia in 1831.

Uncle Charlie had Mr. G. L. Summer, a genealogist of Newberry South Carolina search the records of Newberry. Mr. Summer found that Abraham and his brother, Lovinsky Gilbert, were partners in business there. They built the first brick store in Newberry. Abraham sold out his business to his brother, Lovinsky, and moved to Columbus, Georgia. Later his brother, Lovinsky moved to Spartenburgh, South Carolina. There were several deeds and court records containing Abraham Gilbert's and his wife, Elizabeth's signatures.

Abraham and Elizabeth West Gilbert went to Texas in 1840 where he took out a land grant and settled in Washington county, Texas. He and his family were returning to Georgia and Alabama when he died. He was burried at Brenham, Texas in 1841. Elizabeth West Gilbert returned to Alabama where she reared her family.

Abraham Gilbert died young. He was only forty years old. His son, Love Gilbert, our Grandfather, was twelve when his father died.

The only record we have of the Texas land grant is one that was given to Uncle Charlie Gilbert by his Cousin George Jennings, now deceased (the son of Thomas Jennings and Angeline Gilbert Jennings). Angeline was the oldest child of Abraham and Elizabeth West Gilbert--The title of this paper is—

"HEIRS OF MARY GILBERT AND ABRAM GILBERT"

There seems to be two sets of heirs. Mary must have been his mother. We know that Lodoski Benedict was his sister and there is a Sarah Y. Johns that we believe must be his sister, also. There are deeds in Newberry, South Carolina to her signed by Abraham and Elizabeth Gilbert. The second set of heirs mentioned were Elizabeth Gilbert and her children. It is my belief that Abraham Gilbert belonged to the Gilberts of South Carolina.

ELIZABETH WEST GILBERT

Elizabeth West Gilbert, the wife of Abraham Gilbert was born at Newberry, South Carolina in 1811. The family Bible states that her husband was eleven years older than Elizabeth.

We know more about Elizabeth West Gilbert than we do about her husband Abraham Gilbert. Mr. Summer of Newberry, South Carolina wrote to Uncle Charlie several years ago that Elizabeth West Gilbert was the daughter of John West and Drucilla Lindsey. That Drucilla West and John West had the following children: (1) Young L.; (2) John West; (3) Elizabeth (who married Abraham Gilbert) and (4) Jacob H. That Drucilla Lindsey West was the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth and John Lindsey.

It is my belief that either Elizabeth's mother or father were closely related to the Youngs as I find Elizabeth Gilbert and Joseph Gilbert's names on a will of one of the Youngs in South Carolina.

IN A BOOK CALLED "ANNALS OF NEWBERRY" BY O'NEAL

"John West, the father of the Wests, who lived on the Beaverdam, lived beyond an hundred years. When he said he was a hundred years or close to its neighborhood, he was found in the woods hunting squirrels and said he could then see to shoot a rifle, as well as he ever did. He died after 1804." (This was probably Elizabeth West Gilbert's grandfather as her family are the Beaverdam Wests).

I am sure that we will all agree that one of the most interesting true stories of a pioneer woman is found in the life of Elizabeth West Gilbert. From the time that she stops on her journey from Texas to Alabama to bury her husband, her life is one of hard work, requiring patience and courage.

We have a beautiful narrative beginning with this dear woman and those four young children starting life all over in Eutaw, Alabama with one or two faithful negroes to help Elizabeth rear the four of them. And then after they reached the age of maturity, the cruel war comes and leaves her with greater heartaches and responsibilities. Her two sons Love and Alexander, and one son-in-law, Thomas Jennings, husband of Angeline Gilbert, had to go leaving her with Love's four children and Angeline's two, to support and care for.

Her two sons were put in prison, a copy of Love Gilbert's honorable discharge, together with his war record is on the next page. (This was furnished by my sister, Mamie Andrews Dean). Grandmother Gilbert was informed that her boys had both been killed in battle, but they returned to her—both very ill. Alexander Spear Gilbert, her youngest son, died of tuberculosis, from exposure in a damp prison, six months after he returned. Love lived but fought continually for health. Her son-in-law, Thomas Jennings, Angeline Gilbert Jennings' husband, was killed in battle.

Grandmother Elizabeth West Gilbert reared three sets of children and with her many trials she lived to give all a testimony of a beautiful Christian life

The following OBITUARY taken from the Eutaw Whig and Observer gives us an idea of how the community and town of Eutaw felt toward this good woman:

"Died at her residence in Eutaw, on the 27th day of February 1871, Mrs. Elizabeth Gilbert. She was born in Newberry, South Carolina, in the year 1811. In 1830 she intermarried with Abram Gilbert and shortly afterwards removed with her husband to Columbus, Georgia. They migrated thence to Texas in 1840, where her husband died. In 1842 she moved to this country, and continued to reside here until her death. She was the mother of five children, all of whom she survived but one, who is now one of the proprietors of the 'West Alabamian' at Carrolton. She joined the Methodist Church in 1833, and continued a strict and consistent member of it during the remainder of her life."

"Mrs. Gilbert was a most excellent woman. She possessed many lovely and beautiful traits of character. She was kind, gentle, charitable and good. She made a dutiful and affectionate wife. She was an excellent mother, a warm friend, a kind neighbor and a useful, but unobtrusive member of society. She was universally respected in this community; had many warm friends and left not a single enemy among us."

"Her Christian life was consistent and instructive to others. Her piety was fervent and sincere but not obtrusive in demonstration or noisy in expression. Her walk was blameless and her conversation that of a pure and guileless Christian. As she lived the life of the righteous, so her last end was peaceful and serene. The cheering declaration on the 'Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord' should be a comfort to those who mourn her."

NOTE: I find that the Wests and Gilberts marry and intermarry in South Carolina and from the above obituary it looks as though Elizabeth and Abram might have been related.

Elizabeth West Gilbert's family Bible only mentions four children. One probably died in infancy.

ABRAHAM GILBERT AND ELIZABETH WEST
GILBERT HAD THE FOLLOWING CHILDREN
(Taken from the Family Bible)

1—Angeline H. Gilbert, born in 1830— died in 1854. Married Thos. Jennings. Killed in battle, Decatur, Alabama, July 2, 1864. They had two children, George and Amanda Jennings.

Angeline lived to be only twenty-five years old and Thos. Jennings was killed in battle in 1864. Grandmother Elizabeth West Gilbert reared their two children. Their descendants are shown on another page.

2—Capt. Love E. Gilbert, the second child of Abraham and Elizabeth West Gilbert was born April 6, 1833 at Columbus, Georgia Married first, 1854 by the Rev. George Boggs to Elizabeth Fairchild Jackson of Livingston, Alabama. (father, Cornelius Jackson, born in Connecticut and died in Fort Worth, Texas). Married second time to Virginia Fairfield Stinson, February 14, 1867. By his first marriage there were three children that lived and by his second there were five. These are shown on another page.

3—Mary L. Gilbert, the third child of Abram and Elizabeth West Gilbert was born December 15, 1835 and died January, 1847. (buried by Elizabeth West Gilbert).

4—Alexander Spear Gilbert, fourth child of Abram and Elizabeth West Gilbert, born April 14, 1838 died November 4, 1865 not married. (buried by Elizabeth West Gilbert).

THE GILBERTS AS BROADCAST FROM WASHINGTON

Aunt Mary Gilbert Hudson the oldest living Gilbert, lives in Los Angeles, California. Aunt Mary has always had the reputation among the Gilberts as being a marvelous housekeeper and as Aunt Annie says is remembered by the younger set as the best cook in the family. I have not seen Aunt Mary and Uncle Bob for thirty years, but I remember them planning parties, dinners and good times for the kin folk. The Texas Gilberts say that they were past eighty years of age when they made an auto trip to Texas, making the trip alone. The old man named "West" out at Newberry, South Carolina did not have anything on Aunt Mary and Uncle Bob.

Lyda Gilbert Andrews, my mother is now eighty years of age. Her children all call her their "flapper mother". She still loves to go places. She and my sister, Kate visited me last summer and I made the return trip to Texas with them. Kate and I grew weary many times from the long ride but not so with mother.

Aunt Lillie Gilbert Shearon lives in Los Angeles, California with her youngest child William Shearon who is not married. Her daughter Virginia Barker and family also live in Los Angeles, California. The kin folk all comment on William's devotion to his mother in their little home.

Aunt Sallie J. Gilbert Morgan lives in Brentwood just out of St. Louis, Mo. Aunt "J" has always been more like a sister to the Andrews children as she lived with us for some time before her marriage. I feel closer to her than the other kin as she was the first to welcome my husband into the family and she and Uncle Nelson were with us during the loss of Dr. Schwartz's mother. The three of them Uncle Nelson, Aunt J. and Gilbert are very close to all of our hearts.

Uncle Nelson Morgan has a most interesting family history. His father, Charles Morgan was born in Somerset England, his mother was Mary Antonette Combs born at Alton Ill. in 1818. Her father, John Combs (De Conyea) the son of Gen. John DeConyea of Napoleon's Staff at the time of Napoleon's defeat, the boy was about four years old and as the families of all the officers were being destroyed, the boy with several of the children ran down to the water front. They were taken aboard by a sea captain who landed in New York. The children were taken care of by the authorities and Uncle Nelson's grandfather was bound to a shoemaker until he was 21 year's old. He then left New York and came to Alton, Ill. The name DeConyea was changed as translated to Combs.

Aunt Annie Gilbert Crowell who lives in West Point, Miss. has the reputation among all of the Gilberts as having the sweetest disposition of all. They say of her, the same as was said of Elizabeth West Gilbert—"She never had an enemy" I visited her this summer. I am named for her, but never met her before. Her children and their children all congregate around her for family re-unions.

There are three of this last set of Gilbert Girls now widows. Aunt Lillie who lives with her single son. Aunt Annie lives with her youngest daughter Sallie Crowell. Aunt Jennie visits among her children.

I am sorry that I do not know all of the inlaws among the nieces and nephews I went to school with Bess Banner who was married to my first Cousin Charlie G. Hudson. We had many happy times together in college. She, Elizabeth Gilbert and I were brides maids at Lizzie Hudson's wedding to Fred Royse. I called Mr. Royse "Cousin Royse" long before their marriage. There was nothing that I enjoyed more than hearing Cousin Royse laugh. For those of you, who have never met Cousin Royse, you must learn that his full name is Frederick Dudley Royse. He was born in Manchester, England in 1882. He came to America in 1897. He served in the Spanish American War; was stationed in the Phillipine Islands. He took out his naturalization papers in U. S. in 1904. I believe he is better known among the kin than most of the Cousins in laws.

I am sorry that I have not met personally the wives and husbands that are married into our Gilbert clan. I hope that we will all know one another better by the time our real GILBERT GENEALOGY which Gertrude Gilbert and I hope to get out together is ready.

We started this broadcast with Aunt Mary Gilbert Hudson the oldest living Gilbert and we will close with the youngest, Shirley Mae Grove, who was born December 14, 1940. Shirley Mae is the great Grand-daughter of Lyda Gilbert Andrews. Her mother being Jessie May Cox, and father being Russell Grove. Let us hope that twenty years from now Shirley will keep alive the family ties of the Gilbert clan.
